

Business & Leadership: Executive Coaching, Team-Building, Non-Profit Consulting, Seminars & Workshops

Amy's story of entrepreneurial success living proof that anyone is capable of launching a business from scratch with a story and a passionate drive.

Business & Leadership Keynote Speaker

- The Four Essential Business Mindsets
- Women's Wellness & Leadership
- Harness the Power of Storytelling to Accelerate Your Career
- Turn Your Career Into an Idea Worth Spreading: Secrets from TEDx
- Use Your Detour to Lead to Bigger, Bolder Business
- Staying Hungry for Life: Fueling Livelihood with Aliveness
- More Than a Username: Creating Successful Careers through Storytelling on Social Media
- The Irreplaceable Speaker's Secret: Find the Universal Message in Your Own Unique Story
- Mental Health in the Workplace
- For Aspiring Youth, Emerging leaders, Mid-level leaders and CEOs

“My journey from coma to career has inspired a resiliency program to provide the leadership tools needed to transform adversity into creative growth and entrepreneurial success.”

What makes an organization adaptable, inventive, and genuinely inspiring?

Amy shares how promoting artistry, storytelling and creativity, can not only cultivate trust and well-being within an organization, but empower each individual to connect, contribute, create, choose, and to continually challenge themselves, fostering a sense of community, and building collaboration, and driving a workplace ethos towards inclusion. Creative entrepreneurial storytelling helps us to adapt to rules enough to ignore them, break them, and reconstruct them. If we want originality, invention and relentless innovation, we need to harness the power of storytelling to defy the status quo, fearlessly experiment with bold, new ideas and provide everybody in the organization with the chance to exercise his or her leadership capability. An engaging, passionate storyteller, Oestreicher takes audiences on an inspiring journey from coma to career, revealing what anyone in today's corporate world can learn about business resiliency from post-traumatic growth and the transformative power of storytelling, and how this unconventional rethinking of leadership can reimagine our future through experimentation, risk-taking, and game-changing innovation.

Executive Coaching

Amy works closely with your company to customize leadership and training programs to meet your specific goals through learning and development consulting services, including preparing course materials and creating team-building curriculum, guide your company's leadership to success with a hands-on, creative approach.

Contact Amy for Additional Information

Professional Leadership Development

Amy provides professional development programs that enhance overall workforce performance and improve individual contributions from each employee.

Contact Amy for Additional Information

Non-Profit and Business Consulting

Amy enthusiastically provides program participants with a multi-faceted experience based upon professional experience, technical knowledge, and a respect for the communities and individuals your organization wishes to serve in a sensitive and supportive manner. Amy will help your business create helping relationships, assesses complex problems, identify problem-solving interventions, and monitor progress towards successful outcomes. Learn to work with existing community resources, and achieve goals more effectively and efficiently.

Contact Amy for Additional Information

Team Building Workshops and Seminars

This dynamic team building training program produces results. This highly interactive team building program strengthens every aspect of team leadership skills. The program is guaranteed to develop stronger team cohesion, unity and support that are needed to achieve organizational goals.

Contact Amy for Additional Information

Keynote Performance: A Perfect Opening Event for Your Next Corporate/Leadership Conference

In this motivational, informative multimedia presentation, survivor and entrepreneur Amy Oestreicher weaves her near-death experience and unexpected professional journey with musical and comedic flair, highlighting the disappointments, struggles, triumphs, and humor in her life, and how passion fueled her insatiable drive to outperform and turn survival into success.

Contact Amy for Additional Information

Perfect For:

- Team-Building
- Business Conferences
- Corporate Events
- Office Programming
- Explorations In Creativity
- Storytelling Conferences and Workshops
- Retreats
- Continuing Education
- Communications training

Professional testimonials and referrals upon request.

